

Armazéns de Dados

Having the data provided in the exercise as basis (about existing customers and new arriving customers), create an Integration Services Project that allows the detection of the duplicated records that may exist. Take into account the following requirements:

- Identify not only the exact duplicated records, but also those that are approximately equal.
- Store the new records (that do not yet exist) into a table and the duplicated records (equal or approximate) into another table.